Fair Processing Notice

North Wales Police acknowledges that information shared with us via Facebook may be used for a policing purpose. Should this need arise, we will take great care to ensure that the personal data of any person is handled appropriately in a secure manner and in accordance with the law. Therefore, by joining and participating in the North Wales Police Neighbourhood Policing Team group, you consent to our holding and use of your personal data in this way. If you would like further information about how North Wales Police handle and use personal information please visit the North Wales police website.

By joining our community and interacting with us and other members of our group, in addition to the Social Networking Providers terms and conditions, you also agree to abide with our stated ground rules and guidance. You must not share or post any inappropriate or unlawful content.

Remember, information you post on the Internet could potentially be read by anyone, anywhere in the world. Therefore you should not publicly post or share any personally identifiable information about someone else. If you want to report or discuss something sensitive with us involving you or somebody else, please contact 0845 6071002 or speak with your local policing representative. Alternatively if you want to report a crime anonymously, call CRIMESTOPPERS on 0800 555 111.

If you are offended by anything you see displayed as part of our group pages please contact northwalespolice@north-wales.police.uk
